EXACTA

Remote POS

Why limit your sales to a single location? Whether it's the gas station down the street or the lube shop across from your location, you could be selling from all of them with Exacta's Remote POS system.

The Remote POS is a client/server technology developed by Exacta which allows up to seven remote 'POS Clients' to sell Washes for a single Car Wash server. The Client POS dials out to the Car Wash after midnight each night to down load sales information and upload codes. There is no connection between the wash and the client during the day.

The illustration shows a Car Wash with two remote Client sites. One site is offering Pay-At-The-Pump, the other Discount Coupons.
